CRAYON DRIVE

What: Bring your unwanted crayons (old, intact, or broken) to our crayon collection drive to help support the Crayon Initiative. This is a charitable organization which takes old crayons, melts them down, makes new ones, and then sends them to children's hospitals to support their art programs. Maria Farnet Children's Center, Elizabeth Seton Pediatric Center and Westchester Children's Hospital are some of the Westchester County hospitals that benefit from this charity.

How: Look for crayons to donate in and around your homes, in backpacks, in art bins, basements and near drawers or anywhere else you might stumble across them. It does not matter what condition they are in, but if they are no longer being used please bring them into school for collection. We will have designated bins for collection within the school.

Why: Let's help brighten another child's day with a fresh set of crayons while helping to also save the planet by recycling. Please join us on our kindness mission to help children and the planet through our crayon collection efforts.
